

AIR COMMUNICATION

L. C. BRAND PLANS AEROPLANE SERVICE BETWEEN HOME AND RANCH

L. C. Brand, who lives just north of Glendale on Mountain street, is having Kent & Son build him a hangar in front of his castle home to house the great aeroplane he is having constructed at Venice under the direction of ex-officers of the Government flying service. This hangar is to be 52 feet wide by 34 feet deep, and absolutely fire proof. The doors are to be 11 feet high and 48 feet wide, of accordion type, with 14 leaves. The biplane, of the Curtis type, will have a wing spread of 44 feet and will be run by a 150-horsepower Liberty motor. Mr. Brand expects to use it in trips between his home and the ranch at Mono Lake, near Bishop, 300 miles north. An Army Lieutenant will train his chauffeur to navigate the plane.

The city of Bishop has given Mr. Brand a piece of ground on which to locate his hangar and landing place. In front of the hangar at the home place will be a smooth stretch occupying 15 acres and extending to 10th street, on which to start the plane. The hangar will cost about $3500 and the aeroplane probably not far from $12,000.

THEY WERE WISE IN WAITING

When the Glendale service men were first considering the forming of an organization of veterans of the World War, strong efforts were made to induce them to affiliate with the Allied World War Veterans of Los Angeles. Leaders among the Glendale men opposed this, preferring to form a local organization first and investigate the national and international bodies before joining forces with them. They are glad now that they did not hook up with the Allied World War Veterans, since the promoters of the order there are acting very unwisely in giving forth in their own magazine, cartoons and articles unjustly criticising the Government. The front cover page of the last number of the magazine was severely condemned by army officers and warning given that there should be no more of this kind.

BIRTHDAY DANCE

Kenneth Ripley Jackson was very happily surprised Saturday evening when guests invited by his parents to celebrate his sixteenth birthday appeared at the Jackson home on Chestnut street and spent an exceedingly pleasant evening with dancing followed by refreshments. The house was beautifully decorated with red and white carnations from the Jackson's garden, and they were also used in beautifying the birthday cake which bore sixteen candles.

Guests present were: Misses Esther Ralston, Dorothy Carmack, Harriet Cook, Dorothy Salyer, Louis Holmbeck, Grace Crampton, Martha Myers, Clarence Ralston, Charles Stephenson, Philip Wernette, Robert Carmack, Calvin Spaulding, N. Burson.

REACHED THE HEART

NARRATIVE OF DR. DYE BRINGS TEARS TO EYES OF ALL HEARERS

Dr. Royal J. Dye, who is director of missionary work in Southern California for the Christian Churches, delivered a most heart-searching talk yesterday morning in Central Christian Church, setting forth the importance of the step the church has taken in becoming a Living Link to support a mission station in South Africa. Had he taken a text it could have been "And a Little Child Shall Lead Them." He told how he and Mrs. Dye, a young married couple, he but 25 and she 21, went to far-off Africa, traveling 700 miles up the Congo and locating in the heart of a vast region where white people had never before stepped foot. They had to learn the language and learn the natives. They began by gaining the confidence of the simple natives, he by healing their diseases and their wounds, she by nursing sick children and mothering the down-trodden women. When their own baby came, in the second year, it was a wonder to the whole district, men and women coming in for miles and miles to see the white baby and observe Mrs. Dye's ways of caring for the infant. When the little one was large enough to be taken out, she was the attraction at all the meetings and, as Dr. Dye said, she really preached the sermons, and when she was old enough (Continued on Page 4)

ENLARGED QUARTERS

GLENDAL POSTOFFICE TO SPREAD OUT TO DOUBLE CAPACITY

Work on tearing out the partition between the present postoffice quarters and the room north of it, is now in progress by Kent & Son. The two rooms are to be thrown practically into one largely increasing the lobby and main office space. The mail sacks will no longer be dragged back and forth through the lobby, but will be taken in and out through the north door. The entire rear portion of the two rooms will be devoted to the carriers' quarters, greatly simplifying their work. No additional delivery windows will be added, but Mr. Hallett thinks that the new arrangement may so economize on man power that at least one more clerk may be released for office work, at least during the rush hours. Of course, what the office should have is two delivery windows and an exclusive money order window. Maybe these will come in time. The work of remodeling is to be completed by June 1st.

PRIVATE LOUIS GABAIG HERE

Louis Gabaig, brother of Albert J. Gabaig, of 1417 South Central avenue, got back from overseas to Los Angeles a week ago and went immediately to Chino where he spent a week with his mother. He is now the guest of his brother and will be here long enough to visit with his many Glendale friends before going north to take up mining in which he had some experience before entering the army. He originally enlisted in the cavalry but was transferred to the 157th Infantry after getting overseas and was made interpreter for the R. R. C. and French Missions. He explains that the R. R. C. means "Rights, Reclamations and Claims." Though he did the work of a non-commissioned officer, he did not get the appointment, which was disappointing, but he by no means regrets his war experience for he says he never felt better in his life than he does now, and he considers the training he received was a great advantage. He got within sound of the guns at St. Mihiel, but did not have a chance to go over the top.

IN THE DARK LANDS

PASTOR GATES TELLS OF THE TRANSFORMATION OF PITCAIRN AND OTHER ISLANDS

Pastor E. H. Gates, for years a missionary of the Seventh-Day Adventists in the South Pacific Islands, and at one time stationed on the famed Pitcairn Island, was the speaker at the regular service of the Glendale Seventh-Day Adventist Church, Wilson Avenue and Isabel Street, last Saturday morning. He told of the transforming power of the gospel upon the lives of native heathen, who a few years ago made a business of fighting, killing and collecting skulls.

There are many of the Pacific coast who remember the time when the missionary ship "Pitcairn" was built and sent to that far-off island which, because it is not near any steamer lane, is isolated from the world except for occasional visits from ships which have steered away from their regular course. The ship "Pitcairn" sailed through the Golden Gate on her first cruise October 20, 1890. Pastor Gates was one of the Adventist missionaries on board.

In his discourse in the Glendale Church Saturday morning he told of the strides taken in missionary operations among the many islands lying (Continued on Page 4)

Y. P. B. U. MEETING

About twenty young people were present at a meeting of the Y. P. B. U., which was held at the home of Miss Ruth Palmer on Colorado street Friday evening. The program was a temperance symposium, each member reading an article on the subject from some current periodical. The difference in popular sentiment between now and ten years ago when such articles could only be found in the prohibition organs, was effectively brought out.

Miss Mary Louise Hann gave a whistling solo for which Miss Helen Esterly furnished the accompaniment and delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

The Union voted to make scrap books and prepare postal cards for the Children's Hospital and Missions for Christmas, and to begin the work at the next regular meeting which will be held the second Friday in June at the home of Miss Barrett, 346 West Wilson avenue.

AUSTRIAN PEACE TERMS

WILL REDUCE TERRITORY TO GERMAN-AUSTRIA AND STATUS TO THAT OF THIRD-RATE POWER

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Paris, May 12.—(Copyrighted by United Press.)—It was authoritatively learned today that the Austrian peace terms, while designed to reduce the status of Austria to that of a third-rate power, provide for the economic rehabilitation of the country. The treaty will be ready for presentation this week, the delegates expect. The first main section will correspond with that of the League of Nations covenant with Germany. Austria's boundaries are to be so reduced as to comprise only German-Austria. Banat and Temesvar will be given to Jugo-Slavia and a large part of Transylvania will go to Jugo-Slavia. Italy gets Tyrol.

Regardless of the outcome of the Fiume dispute, both Austria and Hungary will be given access to the sea, including the right to use the railways and wharves of Fiume.

Austrian armies and navies will be reduced to what will amount to a police force. The economic conditions of the treaty will be similar to those of Germany, but easier because of Austria's disintegration. Pre-war debts will be shared with the Czecho-Slovaks, Jugo-Slavs, Austrians and Hungarians in proportion to their obligations. Reparation will be handled by a commission the same as in Germany. The former parts of Austria will be required to make an initial payment and the remainder will be collected by the commission.

Under the head of responsibilities for the war provisions are included which require the surrender for trial of those responsible for war crimes. The Danube River will be placed under the control of the League of Nations. It is understood President Wilson is maintaining a firm stand in regard to Fiume.

ONE BILLION OVER THE TOP

BANKS SWAMPED WITH "V" RETURNS AND WEEK WILL BE REQUIRED TO DETERMINE OVERSUBSCRIPTIONS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Washington, May 12.—Treasury reports today showed that the country's federal reserve banks are swamped under an avalanche of Victory Loan returns and that it will probably be a week before oversubscriptions can be accurately forecasted. It is roughly estimated that the loan has been oversubscribed to the amount of a billion dollars.

GERMAN PEACE NOTES

REFERRED TO A COMMITTEE OF EXPERTS, WHO WILL REPORT TO "BIG FOUR"

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Paris, May 12.—The "Big Four" today begin the consideration of the latest German communications on the peace treaty. The notes were referred to committee experts, who will report back to the "Big Four."

BELGIUM REFUSES TO PROSECUTE

ALLIES FACE EMBARRASMENTS IN TRIAL OF EX-KAISER WILLIAM BECAUSE OF BELGIUM'S STAND

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Paris, May 12.—Some uncertainty regarding the actual trial of the former Kaiser William of Germany has developed here as a result of the refusal of Belgium to act as prosecutor.

FLYERS WATCH WEATHER

NC-4 MAY FLY FROM CHATHAM TO TREPASSEY BAY, CUTTING OUT STOP AT HALIFAX

Chatham, Mass., May 12.—Weather conditions here today are unfavorable for seaplane NC-4 to attempt to fly from here to Halifax. It is believed the start cannot be made today, although the crew, which is deeply disappointed, may make the effort if there is the slightest chance.

Trepassey Bay, May 12.—Although American planes are ready for the start, it is believed they cannot begin the 1200-mile flight to the Azores before tomorrow.

Commander Towers is anxiously awaiting word indicating that the NC-4 has arrived from Chatham. Towers suggested that the NC-4 attempt a direct flight to Trepassey Bay, eliminating the stop at Halifax. The planes have been so equipped that they can repair the engines or even change propellers while flying.

RIOTS IN HOLY CITY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Paris, May 12.—Rome dispatches received today say liberated convicts and soldiers battled with gendarmes on the streets of Rome last night, capturing the court house. Three thousand shots were exchanged and fourteen persons were wounded. Order was restored after hours of fighting.

$235,700 IN BONDS

GLENDAL EXCEEDS QUOTA IN USUAL SPLENDID MANNER IN FIFTH LOAN

After days of great anxiety prolonged even to the last afternoon of the drive, the chairman, Mrs. Ralph Meeker, her associate, Judge Lowe, and the loyal precinct captains and workers can rest on their laurels and enjoy the satisfaction of a big task creditably performed. For Glendale went over the top at the last in fine order, with bond sales totaling $235,700 on a quota of $181,000.

About two hundred workers will be entitled to the medals made from cannon captured from the enemy, and four German helmets will reward workers as follows: To Mrs. Hull of Kenneth Road, for the largest individual subscription; to Philip Wernette and Mildred Meeker, the High School boy and girl who sold the largest number of bonds at the Tank celebration Thursday night, and to Troop 2 of the Boy Scouts for the organization making the largest number of sales.

The chairman feels especially indebted to Attorney Frederick Baker for the patriotic appeal which he made Saturday night to the audience assembled at the Palace Grand Theatre which sent buyers flocking to headquarters after the show was over; also to Maurice B. Hartman who tendered his services and his automobile and put in a strenuous Saturday afternoon canvassing territory once gone over and bringing in many subscriptions. Mr. Hartman stated that his parents sleep in Hunland, but he is a thorough American and was glad of the opportunity to do his part in putting Glendale over the top.

Following is a list of High School boy and girl workers at the Tank Drive with the sales to their credit. Unfortunately some of these boys and girls failed to have their names placed on the back of the subscriptions they secured so the committee has no record of their work and is therefore unable to give proper credit. As stated above, Mildred Meeker and Philip Wernette will each receive a helmet.

SPRING IN SONG

PUPILS OF MRS. CATHERINE SHANK GIVE CHARMING RECITAL PROGRAM

"Sunnyside," the beautiful home of Mrs. Catherine Shank, on Riverdale Drive, made a lovely setting for the artistic musical program given Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Shank's pupils, some of whom are almost professionals.

It was a springtime, program and a springtime atmosphere enveloped the audience of 150 guests assembled on the lawn, while the singers were framed in the doorways and windows, the house serving as stage and background for the fiesta of song.

Mrs. Shank opened and closed the program, her first number being that lovely spring aria from "The Creation, 'In Verdure Glad.' At the close of the program she sang with Mr. Shank, "The Graceful Consort" from the same oratorio.

The feature of outstanding interest was the little cantata, "Three Springs," which was chiefly ensemble work in which all the pupils participated, but which also included solos by the three butterflies, taken by Misses Alta Condon, Rothel Hareus and Alice Frazier. So well have these pupils responded to the training of their talented instructor that they sang as one voice and immensely delighted all fortunate enough to hear them.

In brief, the story of the cantata is the story of three springs that rise high on the mountainside under a willow tree. One is blue, one is white and one is gold. The dip of the willow branches bids each a fond farewell. First they descend to the limpid pool and listen to the butterfly's advice to the ambitious fly to be content, then down to the brook they (Continued on Page 3)

CHORUS CONTEST

MATCH BETWEEN GLENDALE AND HOLLYWOOD TUESDAY NIGHT—ASSEMBLE AT 7:15

The last rehearsal of the Community Chorus prior to the contest that comes off with Hollywood Tuesday evening was held on Thursday evening and was considerably interrupted by the Tank Drive, not beginning until after 8 and closing early enough for members to adjourn to Broadway and Brand in a body where Prof. Kirchoffer led them in two songs, "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "Old Folks at Home."

Special drill was given on "Old Black Joe," "Massa's in de Cold, Cold Ground," "The Soldiers Chorus from Faust" with strong cautions in regard to "attack" and enunciation, facial expression, etc.

Several persons offered space in their automobiles and L. T. Rowley told of a truck which would be available to carry a large number of people. It was then agreed that the singers should gather at the High School auditorium at 7:15 Tuesday evening when all available automobiles would be on hand to convey all those wishing to go. Officials are hoping that not less than one hundred of those who have been attending will go to Hollywood. They will all be seated together and in marking for points the judges will not be influenced by the greater volume of the Hollywood chorus. Several numbers will be sung together by the two choruses and it will be well worth the trip to Hollywood to hear 1200 or 1500 voices led by Professor Kirchoffer.

ANTI-TELEPHONE TOLL DRIVE EASY

Now that the Victory Loan Drive is so triumphantly completed and Glendale's honor has been vindicated the energies of public-spirited workers will probably be concentrated on anti-telephone-toll drive. It will be a much easier proposition because of the unanimity of sentiment. Not only are subscribers ready to sign the protest, they call up each other and call up the Evening News to know where they can call and register their signatures. At the place of business of D. Ripley Jackson is a list of not less than 75 calls from persons asking that the petition be sent to them for signature. At the banks and the Palace Grand where signatures are being secured people stood in line awaiting a chance to sign. It has been a long time since Glendale has been so united on any proposition. The name of practically every business and professional man on Broadway is on the list and the same response is being made on Brand, while private residents, as stated, are begging for the privilege of signing their names.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, MONDAY, MAY 12, 1919

"WHO WON THE WAR?"

One of the most striking articles on the world war yet written is from the pen of George Pattulo, noted short story writer, who went over to France soon after American participation began and who has been with the overseas forces ever since. He has had exceptional facilities for observing the conduct of the war and has had access to many official documents. The article in question was published in a national weekly magazine and is entitled "Who Won the War?" And in it Mr. Pattulo quotes from English, French, Belgian and Italian newspapers and soldiers and from one or two German ex-soldiers. The English papers practically ignore the American army's work, and the French frankly claim that the poilus did it. The Italians point out that their campaign against the Austrians kept the Germans guessing. Mr. Pattulo refers to the fact that when he went to the front just after the great spring offensive of the Germans, the French were in the depths of despair. An American division, 25,000 men, made a forced march and joined them before the impending German attack was launched, and General Gouraud declared the French morale changed in twenty minutes. Chateau-Thierry was the crowning event which aroused their enthusiasm over the American style of offensive to the highest pitch. The St. Mihiel sector, which had baffled the French for three years, was but a pleasure jaunt to the American army, which here for the first time acted independently of all other Allied forces. When the capture of the Argonne region was discussed, the French generals emphatically declared it could not be taken by any army, as an attack meant annihilation. The Americans took it in a little over one month, suffering 150,000 casualties out of an attacking force of 780,000. Summing it all up, Mr. Pattulo says in practically these words: The English did not win the war, nor did the French, the Belgians, the Italians nor the Americans. God Almighty won it. The Allies were saved once by the Russian campaign into Galicia and East Prussia. They were defeated time and again, later, in Italy, in Flanders, in France. Had the Germans taken advantage of their many mistakes, they could have ended the war more than once, but each time God intervened to prevent. The Germans were never in danger of defeat until after July 15 of last year, but they could have won the war in March or May had they taken advantage of their opportunities.

SHOULD LEGISLATE AGAINST BOLSHEVISM

Bolshevik meetings are being held frequently in Southern California. A recent one in Santa Monica was broken up by indignant soldiers and sailors, who resented attacks on themselves and the government by an anarchist speaker, whom they chased into Topanga Canyon. The lack of laws curbing these outlaws and the laxness in enforcing existing laws are blamed for the prevalence of such meetings.

"CHICAGO TRIBUNE" SUIT

TRIAL OF ACTION FOR LIBEL BROUGHT BY HENRY FORD IN 1916 OPENED TODAY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Mount Clemens, Mich., May 12.—The trial of Henry Ford's million dollar libel suit against the "Chicago Tribune" started here this morning. The suit was begun by Henry Ford in 1916, when the Tribune referred to him as an anarchist.

FAREWELLS FOR GRACE CRAMPTON

Miss Grace Crampton of 213 East Chestnut street will leave soon for Kansas City, Missouri, where she will probably remain until the holidays. During her stay she will be maid of honor at the wedding of her friend, Miss Marie Smallfield, who is to be married to Captain Hurst July 19th. Miss Crampton and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Crampton, are being considerably entertained on the eve of her departure. Tonight they will be guests at dinner of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Pears of Los Angeles, and Thursday evening they will be entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James McAllister of Hollywood.

Sunday afternoon Mrs. Crampton and her daughter entertained with a tea at which covers were laid for ten, their guest list including: Miss Gertrude Sharples and the Misses Isabelle and Ruth Sharples and Richard Sharples of Pasadena, Don Riding of Escondido and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Meyers of Pasadena.

NATIONAL HAPPENINGS

(United Press)
STOCKTON, Cal., May 12.—Episcopal ministers of 22 Episcopal Churches in the Missionary District of San Joaquin assembled here today in their ninth annual convocation. About eighty delegates were present. The convocation is presided over by Bishop Louis C. Sanford of Fresno. The convocation sessions are similar to the annual business sessions of other organizations, and the sessions here are called for the purpose of hearing the reports of the departments of the church.

Two meetings of special interest have been scheduled. One of these is on Wednesday evening, May 14th, when an address will be given by Rev. Theodore R. Ludlow, professor of Rome University, Hangkow, China, his subject being "The Church and the Work of Reconstruction." Thursday evening Rev. M. G. Papzin of Fresno, a brilliant Armenian speaker, will address the assembly on "The League of Nations from the Churches' Point of View."

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 12.—Baseball is doing a great come-back in Sacramento, not only in professional circles, but more particularly in amateur. Approximately 1,000 Sacramentans are now playing in organized amateur baseball leagues, George Sim, superintendent of playgrounds, announced today.

These leagues come under two general heads—the Playground League made up of nearly fifty teams of boys ranging in age from 12 to 18 years and the Twilight League in which nearly 500 business and professional men are entered, playing seven inning games after working hours.

OHIO GETTING READY TO SWEAR OFF ON MAY 27TH

(By United Press)
CLEVELAND, May 9.—When Ohio takes its last drink May 27th, by virtue of an amendment to the state constitution adopted last November, 56,000 bars and other places where liquor is sold will close up shop.

Most Ohio brewers and liquor dealers have accepted prohibition as a settled fact and are planning to convert their places of business into soft-drink emporiums and cafeterias. At Bridgeport, O., is located what is said to be the biggest barroom in the United States. It has a total of 263 feet of bar space. One bar is 113 feet long. It is operated by the Ungerleider Distilling Company and is patronized largely by people from Wheeling, W. Va., just across the river. West Virginia is dry.

One of the members of the Bridgeport concern, now in service in France, expects to go back to France as soon as he is discharged from the army and start an American liquor store somewhere in France. He expects to ship a part of his present stock of whiskey and wine to France. The Old Neil House in Columbus, a famous hotel in the political history of Ohio and which one time sheltered Charles Dickens, will convert its barroom into a cafeteria.

Personals

Miss Lillian Webster, 208 W. Elk avenue, has been confined at home for several days with sciatic rheumatism.

Mrs. Jack Boettner has been ill again with another attack of influenza, but is well enough to be up and about now.

Miss Isadore Tompkins of Green street has entirely recovered from her serious illness and is now quite well again.

Fire Chief Archie Eley of Los Angeles, son of Rev. George Eley, 110 West Lomita avenue, was seriously injured in a hotel fire on Hill street Saturday morning.

Rev. C. H. Scott preached at the M. E. Church in South Pasadena, Sunday forenoon, assisting to raise that church's Centenary apportionment of $35,000.

Since the Elks' Club put on a second janitor the grounds present a greatly improved appearance, with the grass closely clipped and the lawn cleared of all trash.

John A. Logan, who was drawn for jury service in the January venire and who was excused for six months, expects to have to serve for ninety days beginning July 1st.

Mrs. Flora Pixley, of 116 West Lomita avenue, recently received a letter from her son, Guy, conveying the cheering information that he expected to reach the good old U. S. A. about May 15th.

A. S. LaCom, wife and daughters, Lois and Katrine, of Salt Lake City, who have been enjoying a visit with relatives here for a few weeks, went to Santa Monica today to be guests of Mr. Franklin, with whom Mr. LaCom is associated in business at Salt Lake City.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Green of 826 Green street and their little daughter Marjory are leaving Glendale this week for Brazil, where Mr. Green will represent the Goodyear Rubber Company in an important agency. They will be much missed by their neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Mudgett of 624 East Palmer avenue, who purchased a large old-fashioned house which they have since been improving, are now engaged in remodeling and renovating the interior with paper and paint and are going to have a very charming home when it is completed.

Rev. Clifford A. Cole, pastor of Central Christian Church, had a novel experience last Saturday. For the first time in his life, he was sick in bed, not able to raise his head from the pillow for hours. He had recovered sufficiently to take part in the Sunday services, but was still rather shaky.

Ben Cole, of Los Angeles, brother of Rev. Clifford A. John D. and Forrest Cole, of Glendale, spent Sunday with the relatives here. He was in the thickest of the Argonne fighting; and like the rest of the boys who took part in and witnessed the scenes of awful carnage in this field of horrors, he does not want to talk much about it.

Dan Campbell, the banker, left Sunday with his brother, Arthur Campbell, for Santa Maria, where Arthur Campbell is Superintendent of Construction for the Union Oil Company. The banker will probably be away all the week and make a vacation trip of the excursion. He drove in his own machine.

Frank Motsch, who recently sold the Park Avenue Grocery to A. V. Marcellus, has decided to stay in Glendale. He bought a beautiful lot at 519 North Central avenue and Kent & Son will commence tomorrow the erection for him and his good wife of a beautiful 6-room bungalow and garage. The contract price is $3500.

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Rowley are in receipt of a fine collection of war souvenirs brought from overseas by their son, Robert Rowley, who is now at the Presidio for discharge from service. He will soon be in Glendale and able to exhibit and explain the many interesting things he picked up in the course of his ambulance service in Italy and elsewhere. As his work took him to points where the "great dumps" were located made up of equipment surrendered when prisoners were taken or the armistice was signed, he had very favorable opportunities for securing trophies of war.

CALIFORNIA PARENT-TEACHER CONVENTION

At the last meeting of the Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations of Glendale a vote was taken to send Mrs. A. A. Barton, president of the organization, as delegate to the State Convention, which will be held at Santa Cruz, May 28-29.

It was expected that Miss Cora Hickman, of this city, who is the corresponding secretary of the State Association, would also attend, but owing to the illness of her father she will not be able to do so, but Glendale will be further represented by Dr. Jessie Russell, who is president of the State Association.

The social events of the convention will include a reception in the lobby of the Casa del Rey, an auto ride which will be provided by the Real Estate Men's Association of Santa Cruz; and a complimentary fish supper at Laveaga Park.

MRS. TIMMONS RETURNS FROM VISIT

Mrs. Mary Timmons, who lived for many years in her own home at 425 East Windsor Road, leased it last fall and went to Chicago to visit her sons, Ed and Frank, has now returned and is staying with her daughter, Mrs. A. B. Heacock, 709 East Windsor Road. Mrs. Timmons says her son Ed, who spent several months in Glendale in 1917 and 1918, is again engaged in the laundry business and doing well, though not in the best of health. Frank, who lived in Glendale a number of years, has a good position in Chicago and seems prosperous.

LEAGUERS AT CONVENTION

About 25 Epworth Leaguers from the Casa Verdugo and Glendale First Methodist churches report a glorious week-end spent at San Bernardino. They were attending the 17th annual convention of the Pasadena District Epworth League. Besides hours of fun and frolic including a trip to U-bit Springs there were inspirational addresses by Dr. A. Ray Moore and Dr. A. C. Stevens of San Francisco, Rev. Benjamin Sherwood Haywood of Riverside, Dr. W. L. Y. Davis of Pasadena, F. G. H. Stevens and many others.

The delegates were royally entertained in San Bernardino and Rialto homes. Over five hundred Leaguers attended the convention representing all parts of the district from Casa Verdugo to Yucaipa and such distant points as Victorville and Las Vegas, Nevada. It was voted to hold next year's convention at Glendora.

Delegates will give detailed reports of the convention in the Casa Verdugo and First Methodist Churches next Sunday evening and in the Tropic and West Glendale Churches the following Sunday evening.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB

Unique in its annals will be the special program which is to be given tomorrow afternoon by the Tuesday Afternoon Club in honor of the parents of men who have served their country in the army and navy. It is hoped that every family from one or more who went will be present to enjoy the afternoon arranged for their entertainment, and members are requested to make a point of inviting the fathers and mothers of those for whom stars were placed on Glendale's Municipal Service Flag.

W. J. STONE TO LEAVE SOON

W. J. Stone, of 641 North Brand Blvd., who recently, in partnership with two brothers-in-law living in Kankakee, Ill., purchased a large ranch near Paso Robles, which they expect to set to fruit and almond trees, plans to leave for the new home early in June. He will make an extended visit to his Michigan farm before settling down to ranch work in California.

INTERMEDIATE GAME

Today's game was between Angels and Cubs. Horatio Butts pitched for the Angels and Henry Blanchard for the Cubs. It was a very good game of four innings and the final score—13 to 2, was in favor of Angels.

J. E. Peters and family of 400 W. Colorado motored to Long Beach Sunday, ate their dinner on the sands and spent a very pleasant afternoon.

WEATHER FORECAST: Fair except cloudy or foggy tonight and in the early morning near the coast.

MUSIC SECTION MEETING

The Music Section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club met at the home of Mrs. Frank Arnold Friday afternoon, May 9th. A most delightful program was given.

Mrs. Eva Cunningham and Mrs. Masters rendered a duet from The Confirmation Symphony by Mendelssohn.

Mrs. Cunningham played two numbers, 4th Venetian Barcarole by Godard and Etude Mignon by Schmitt.

Mrs. Calvin Whiting, who is corresponding secretary of the Federation of Music Clubs, gave a very interesting and comprehensive report of the convention which was recently held at Oakland.

Mrs. Marlane gave a splendid and artistic interpretation of Prelude Opus 28 and Scherzo in E Minor by Chopin. Before each number she told the story of when it was written and the thought which prompted it and something of the life of the author which was exceedingly delightful and interesting.

Mrs. Montgomery gave a reading by Owen Meredith and responded to encores with the "Corpse's Husband" and "Folks Got Back."

Mrs. Masters then played the "Spinning Song" from Flying Dutchman.

Plans were discussed for the last meeting, which will be a picnic luncheon, held at La Ramada.

The following officers were elected:

Mrs. Chas. Parker as curator with Mrs. Cunningham as assistant and Mrs. Masters and Mrs. Hagood, who will constitute a program committee; Mrs. Von Oven as secretary and treasurer.

A delightful social hour was spent, the hostess serving punch and wafers.

TRIBUTE TO DR. MATTHEW C. HAWKS

The Rev. Matthew C. Hawks, D. D., whose funeral was held Saturday afternoon, had lived in Glendale only a few months, but had greatly endeared himself to the many friends he had made. He had bought a home at 215 North Kenwood Street and had taken a keen interest in the city and the First Methodist Church, with which he affiliated.

Last year he retired from the active ministry in the Detroit Conference of Michigan, where he had filled a number of the leading pulpits during the thirty-four years of his active service. Some of the cities in which he preached were Detroit, Bay City, Saginaw, Ypsilanti and Aigonac.

Dr. Hawks was an unusually versatile man, for in addition to being a preacher of prominence, he was an artist whose pictures were presented with the best in eastern exhibits.

He was an outdoor man and an authority on nature subjects, animals, birds and growing things. He was a crack shot with a rifle and an archer who could take a bird on the wing with an arrow. And the bows and arrows which he made showed the deftness of his hands and his mechanical skill.

He was also an accomplished musician and soon after coming to Glendale he organized an orchestra in the Sunday School of the First Methodist Church and conducted it until he became ill eight weeks ago.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Margaret Hawks, and his sister, Miss Ida Hawks, besides unnumbered friends in Michigan and California.

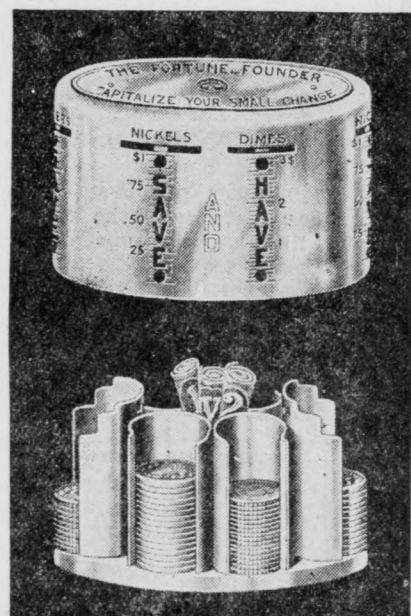

The funeral was conducted by Rev. Chas. H. Scott, assisted by Dr. Oscar Willis and Rev. E. Sedweek, who were associates of Dr. Hawks in Michigan.

The body will be taken east for interment a little later, when Mrs. Hawks and the sister are able to make the journey.

PLEASANT ENTERTAINMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand LaCom of 1104 East Wilson Avenue gave a dinner entertainment Sunday in honor of A. S. LaCom, wife and daughters, Lois and Katrine, of Salt Lake City. The rooms were beautifully decorated in pink roses and white syringas. Those present, in addition to the honor guests, were: Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Levy and daughters, Dorothy and Margery; Mr. and Mrs. Heinmiller and Jack Heinmiller of Los Angeles; Mrs. K. LaCom and daughter, Margaret, of 347 Oak Street, and Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Flutot and sons, Robert and Edward, of 412 Oak Street. The party was delightfully entertained in songs by A. S. LaCom and Jack Heinmiller.

Then they go down to the slow-moving river, hear the song of the rowers, and then "leaping and falling," they shoot over the "great waterfall" and at last into the vast ocean, whence they are drawn by the sun to the soft clouds above to be wafted back to their home in the mountainside.

"MOTHER"

Big, beautiful field of life,
With its dottings of sunshine,
Its shadows of strife.
With pictures that combine,
Yet contradict one another,
In each we see a picture of—mother.

Man in his life inspection,
Has rushed on neglecting
To study the field by each section
Thereby all its beauties detecting.
But taking each in connection with another
It impresses you with the greatness of—mother.

Science has proven the worth of things
Which were once considered useless.

And from the world of fact it brings
The real dissolved from the truth-
less.

Thus dissolving one from another,

to observe and talk, she ruled the tribe like a little queen. Great, brawny men came timidly forward to shake her dainty little hand and if their hands were not clean she would point at the stained spots and refuse to touch them. They would then rush to the river and fairly scrub their hands to get them clean enough to satisfy the little lady. And she was safer from harm in that wild region surrounded by thousands of black people, than she would have been in a crowded American city. Dr.
Dye told of building a hospital and an orphanage and of Mrs. Dye working with the women, teaching them to make and wear dresses and finally reaching their souls. She broke down at this work and for six weeks lay at the point of death with a weakened heart. And when Dr. Dye was able to leave her for a time he went to pay a long-delayed missionary visit to a village 100 miles up the mighty Congo, which, he says, is 7 miles at Bolengi, 700 miles from the mouth. He went in a great canoe made from a hollow log and rowed by 35 brawny men. He had been there only a few days when word was brought by 15 men who had rowed a night and a day without rest, that Mrs. Dye was worse. They wanted to turn right around and start back with him, but he forced them to take a few hours' rest and then they started back at full speed, reaching home in time to save Mrs. Dye. But she lay in a dangerous condition for eighteen months and finally had to come home. Dr. Dye referred to Miss Evelyn Utter, now the wife of Dr. Ernest Pearson, referring to the fact that she was once a member of the local congregation and telling how much he and Mrs. Dye thought of her and her husband and congratulating the Glendale Church on having the privilege of supporting the daughter of a former pastor of the church. The address was replete with striking sayings and pathetic incidents, many of them infinitely sad.

The evening sermon by the pastor
was on "Mothers" and many tributes of love were paid to the "angel of the home." Touching reference was made to the first mother who lifted woman above her old degraded condition, Mary the mother of the Savior. Special attention was given the mothers of soldiers and sailors and to grandmothers, also.

Do you want to get in on a high-class investment in an income business property in the heart of the Business District, where your investment will bring you 10 per cent. annually, besides getting the advantage of the increase in value of this bou-absolutely the best thing in town today, and will merit your investiga-

between South America and Australia.

"The question comes," he said,
"whether these people, once cannibals,
who have been in heathenism, ever amount to anything; whether they are really intelligent. The idea is, are they not simply animals? In answer to that I would like to tell you of an incident that recently happened down in the islands. A young native named Tao had been converted under the preaching of the gospel, and one day our missionary asked him to conduct the meeting at a nearby village. Tao, who had but lately emerged from heathenism, said, 'Yes, I will go and will give them the same study you gave us here three weeks ago.' 'But do you remember it?' asked the missionary.
Tao then repeated point by point the study he had heard from the Seventh-Day Adventist missionary, omitting no essential detail. It is astonishing what progress these heathen make after having been sunken in savagery for centuries."

Pastor Gates mentioned that Seventh-Day Adventists have been the first white missionaries to work on the island of Atchin in the New Hebrides, populated by cannibal savages.
He called attention to the fact that previous to 1835 the Fiji Islands were in the same condition. A number of white men, sailing that way, were talking with a native chief.
"What," they said, "you don't believe the Bible down here? Don't you know the Bible isn't believed any more by people of intelligence?" The chief pointed to a place where they used to slaughter human victims for their cannibal feasts, and said, "If it were not for the Bible, you, by this time, would be cooked and eaten over there." That is what the Word of God is doing for those dark lands. If it were nothing more than to lift the dark shades which rest upon the minds of those poor souls, the missionary work done would be well worth all it has cost."

MONDAY HEALTH TALK

THE COMMON COLD PREVENTION OF LUNG DISEASES

The subject of J. C. Elliott's lecture tonight at Congregational Church will be "The Common Cold and Prevention of Lung Diseases." Immunity from the common cold is possible for all. It is the result of accumulated poisons from neglect and abuse of the body. There are 500,000 deaths annually from lung diseases. All of these are preventable. The common cold is the first step. Eliminate this and you become practically immune to all lung diseases. Immunity consists in generous breathing, scientific bathing, light diet and a balanced ration and health culture exercises.

Methodist Church

The closing lecture of the series will be given Tuesday night, 7:45, in the First Methodist Church. The subject will be "How I Train for Energy, Strength and Endurance; Disease from Foods." A free lesson will be given to all present at the close of the lecture. Mr. Elliott says:
"Weakness, languor and fatigue do not belong to our body. We should have energy and strength for our daily task. Work is a pleasure when our bodies are properly nourished.
Old age and decrepitude are not twins. Man should reach old age in strength and vigor. At present I give from 500 to 600 lectures annually aside from all my other work, and scarcely know what fatigue means.
All class members are invited to the closing class Tuesday night. Admission free to all the lectures Monday and Tuesday night."

From the North American Indian who wore his hair in two long braids, and crowned himself with feathers and the horns of a bison, to his descendant, close-cropped and wearing the visored cap of a Canadian soldier, seems a long way in terms of civilization, but is so short in actual time that both types can be photographed together. Such a picture is current in the American press, and shows three stages in the development of the modern Indian. Here are Indians of the blanket and feathered headdress, Indians again of a later generation who have adopted the clothes of the paleface but are not yet quite at home in them, and Indians of the present who wear the uniform of the twenty-eighth battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, as easily as any other soldier. Patriots all to the native land that has now become the Dominion of Canada, the older men were tilling the soil while the younger warriors were fighting for the Dominion of France.—C. S. Monitor.
